Statement of Parental Consent

Community High School Occupational Outreach Program, (CHSOOP) is a two-year program designed to provide area high school juniors with a limited but enriching exposure to at least three electrical crafts: Substation Operations, Transmission Line Maintenance, and Substation Maintenance. The goal of the program is to encourage student volunteers to pursue further electrical academic and vocational studies. The curriculum will encompass both academic pursuits, including classes on trade theory, and actual field experience. Exposure to actual working conditions will be closely supervised and limited to tasks considered safe for a teenage student volunteer lacking in experience.
